

GRUMPY

HORIZON

Introduction as Quotation

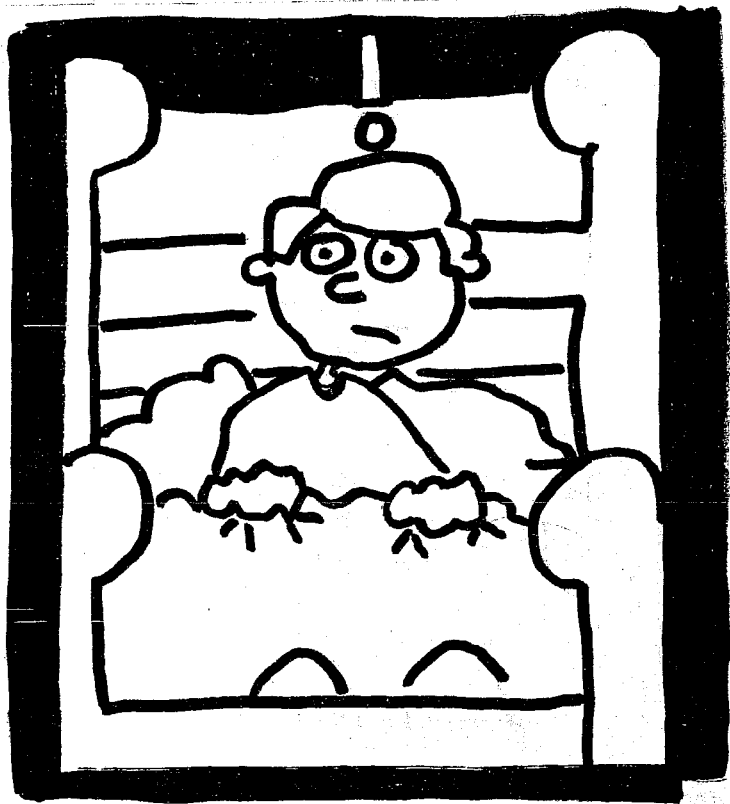

"What sign is recognizable there that could be ours? A few graffiti, words of refusal or unusual gestures inscribed in haste... we wish to live in countries of knowledge, among signs as alive as the friends we see everyday." - Vaneigem, 1958.

"However much the finger indicated to me the curve of the veins, they were for me still no more than the abstract signs under which any object could be hidden. The leaf was a complete desert, or an agglomeration of monsters which seemed all alike to me, in the abolition of all human hierarchies." - Leiris, 1925.

Text from Weekly Recap of NBC's soap opera PASSIONS, July 24 - 26, 2000.
Pictures by R. John Xerxes Piche'.

LOVE BUNNI PRESS PROD.

For Sarah C. Wagner, 12/00.
Go see www.explodingdog.com

Hank suddenly realizes he heard a ship bell in the background during his call with Lester.

Meanwhile, Theresa stands on the wharf and remembers their first kiss.

Much later, Grace questions Sam about the picture of Ethan on his computer.

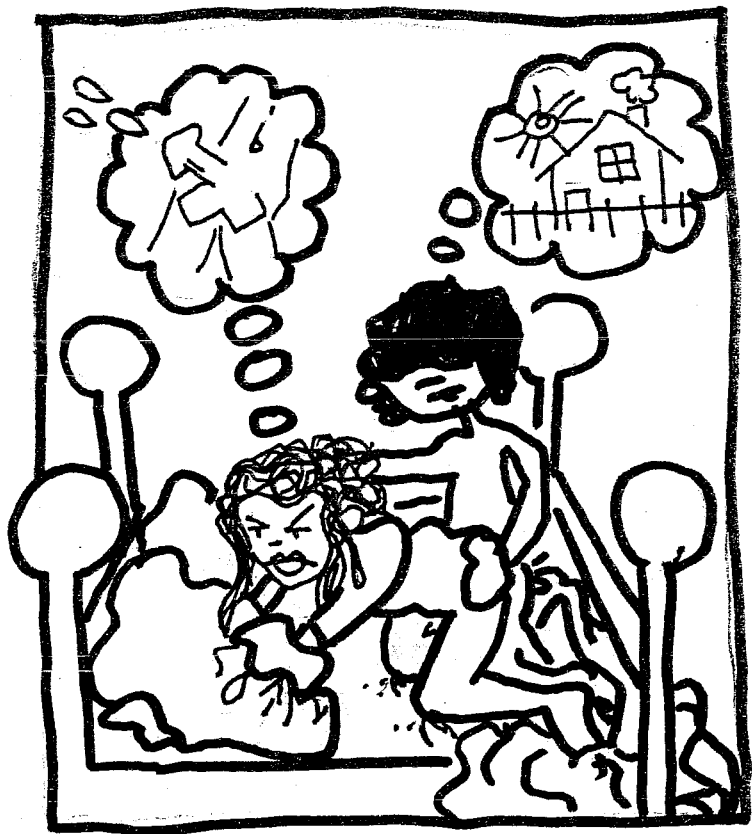

Somewhere, Eve hesitates.

Ivy notices Sam's tense mood and reminds him he can confide anything to her.

As Hank arrives, he hears Kay scream.

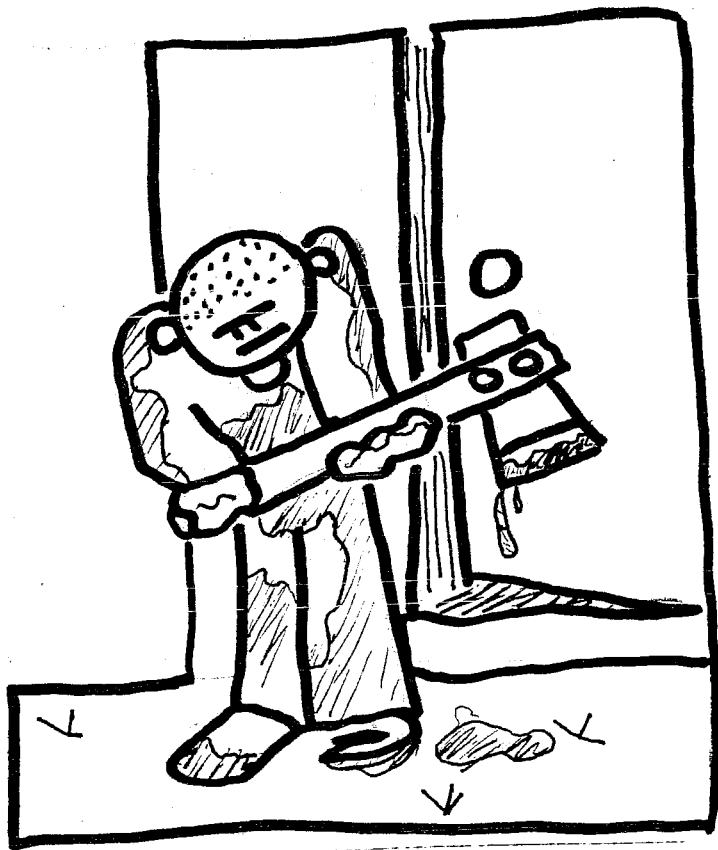

Melanie and Tom wonder about their relationship.

Ivy becomes agitated and runs off.

Timmy looks on in horror as Grace begins to choke his Princess to death.

Sheridan touches the evil pendant and heads out to see Hank.

As Sam is about to speak, he notices the door opening.

Kay tries to draw Miguel's attention away from Charity with her new bikini.

Meanwhile, Ethan recalls kissing Theresa on the wharf.

Love bunni Press
2622 princeton rd
cleveland in Ohio
44118